The Department of Education at Wake Forest University invites you to the launch of their new minor in Schools, Education, and Society to learn how this program can provide a pathway to various careers in the field of education.

Information Session

4:00 - 4:30 pm
This informal meeting time will allow students interested in the Schools, Education, and Society minor to meet with faculty members from the Department of Education and learn more about Education courses.

Student Panel

4:30 - 5:30 pm
Current undergraduate and graduate students share the benefits of Education coursework on career pathways such as teacher education, Teach for America, higher education, law, counseling, psychology, statistics, and more.

SCHOLLS, EDUCATION, AND SOCIETY

- Required courses for SES minor.
  - EDU 201: Educational Policy and Practice
  - EDU 311: Learning and Cognitive Science
  - EDU 368: Professional Experiences in Education
  - EDU 2011: Field Lab I

- Elective courses for SES minor.
  - EDU 304: Social Justice Issues in Education
  - EDU 307: Design, Assessment, and Technology
  - EDU 354: Content Pedagogy
  - EDU 388: Writing Pedagogy
  - EDU 395: Teaching Diverse Learners
  - EDU 377: Literacy in the 21st Century

---

Wednesday, February 26, 2014
4:00 - 5:30 pm
Tribble Hall B216

Refreshments Provided

For more information about the Careers in Education Symposium, contact Dr. Scott Baker (bakerrs@wfu.edu) or Dr. Alan Brown (brownma@wfu.edu) in the Department of Education.