Wake Forest University Summer School for Teachers 2013

The following WFU summer courses may be of interest to local K-12 teachers. You may enroll as a visiting student. Tuition for teachers is $800 per course. If you are interested, please contact Leah McCoy, mccoy@wfu.edu.

Education
- EDU 707, Educational Policy and Practice. (3) Examination of the impact of race, ethnicity, and social class on educational achievement and attainment, including consideration of philosophical, historical, and sociological issues. Daily 2:00-4:00 p.m., 7/08-8/02.

Science
- EDU 764, Seminar in Curriculum and Instruction (3). Exploration of special topics in the field of curriculum and instruction--Physical Science. Daily 9:00-12:00 p.m., 7/08-8/02.

English
- EDU 764, Seminar in Curriculum and Instruction. (3) Exploration of special topics in the field of curriculum and instruction--Adolescent Literature. Daily 10:00-12:00 p.m., 7/08-8/02.
- ENG 674, American Fiction before 1865. (3) Novels and short fiction by such writers as Brockden, Cooper, Irving, Hawthorne, Melville, Stowe, and Davis. Daily 09:25-10:40 am, 7/08-8/10.
- ENG 679, Literary Forms of the American Personal Narrative. (3) Reading and critical analysis of autobiographical texts in which the ideas, style, and point of view of the writer are examined to demonstrate how these works contribute to an understanding of pluralism in American culture. Daily 10:50 am-12:05 pm, 07/08-08/10.
- ENG 696, Contemporary British Fiction. (3) Study of the British novel and short story, with particular focus on the multicultural aspects of British life, including work by Rushdie, Amis, Winterson, and Ishiguro. Daily 12:15 pm-01:30 pm, 07/08-08/10.

French
- FRH 675, Special Topics: Teaching Literature, Songs, and Film to Students in French. (3) Come spend a portion of your summer renewing your love of French by developing and sharing new teaching ideas. The final project for this course will be a shared portfolio of teaching materials that you can take back into your classroom. Daily 10:00 am-12:00 pm, 7/08-8/02.

Spanish

Mathematics

Political Science