WGS 221/622AG: Introduction to Women’s & Gender Studies

Fall 2015
Wednesday 2:00-4:30 p.m.
Tribble A302

Description: This course offers an interdisciplinary study of questions raised by women’s and gender studies on topics such as sexualities, cultural politics, global feminisms, and men’s studies. Other than the assumption that gender inequity is unjust, this course assumes no single political perspective. It strives to train students in analytical thinking and presses them to think critically about gender in the past, present, and future. Our class will be discussion oriented; guest lectures, local events, and media materials will supplement the readings, class lectures, and dialogues.

This course gives credit toward the major or minor in Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies and fulfills one of the basic requirements for the WGS major/minor degree.

Seminar Instructors:

Prof. Angela Kóczé, Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies
Office Location: Tribble A113.
Office Hours: Monday 11:00-12:00 and by appt.
Email: koczea@wfu.edu
Office Phone: 758-2027
Cell Phone: 336 354 7845

Prof. Elizabeth Way, Women’s, Gender, and Sexuality Studies
Office Location: Tribble A122.
Office Hours: Tuesday 11:00-12:00 and by appt.
Email: wayea@wfu.edu
Office Phone: 758-4849

Required Books:

Joseph Kuypers, ed., Men and Power
Christa Wichterich, The Globalized Woman. Reports from a Future of Inequality