FALL CHORAL CONCERT
Brian Gorelick, conductor
The Fall Choral Concert will be a combined appearance by the Wake Forest Concert Choir and the Collegium Musicum Vocal Ensemble in a program titled All American. All of the music and texts of the choral works presented will be by American artists or come from our country’s traditions and history.
The featured work will be Wake Forest Professor and Composer-in-Residence Dan Locklair’s Since Dawn, a tone poem for narrator, chorus, and two pianos based on Maya Angelou’s On the Pulse of Morning. Concert Choir will also perform the world premiere of Locklair’s newest choral composition, For This Is Love, commissioned by Wake Forest Professor Sam Gladding as a gift to his wife, Claire, on the occasion of their 30th wedding anniversary.

21 Friday, 4:00pm
FACULTY/STUDENT PRESENTATION, in conjunction with the NC Music Teachers Association Conference (NCMTA)
Your Ear Drum: The Most Important Instrument in Your Studio
John Beck and Brandon Robinson with Students
Evaluating musical performance begins with accurate listening. Using live musicians, video examples, and research data, this clinic will reveal the sound volume levels studio teachers and musicians experience during rehearsal, demonstrate the effects of noise-induced hearing loss, and offer practical and affordable solutions to protect hearing that will result in more successful musical performances. Rehearsal and teaching techniques that enhance learning and reduce volume will be demonstrated.
22  Saturday, 9:30am
FACULTY PRESENTATION (NCMTA)
The Gamelan and the Music of Bali
Elizabeth Clendinning
Experience the instruments, sounds and musical basics of the Balinese Gamelan. Perform as part of an interactive demonstration – once in a lifetime opportunity!
Venue: M304 & M305

22  Saturday, 11:00am
FACULTY PRESENTATION (NCMTA)
Bel Canto Spice for Old Italian Songs
Teresa Radomski
An investigation of bel canto ornamentation techniques that can – and should – be used to “jazz up” eighteenth-century Italian songs from standard anthologies that remain an essential component of current vocal pedagogy. Attendees will be invited to participate in group instruction leading to embellished performances of well-known songs.
Venue: M208

22  Saturday, 1:10pm
FACULTY PRESENTATION (NCMTA)
The Guitar’s Role in the Piano Repertoire of Spanish Composers
Patricia Dixon
Professor Dixon will describe the role of the guitar as the center of Spanish folk music and as an important source of inspiration in the piano works of Spanish Nationalist composers of the 19th century.
Patricia Dixon with WFU students: Nicholas Bennet, Lando Pieroni, and Haochen Wu
Venue: M306

22  Saturday, 3:10pm
