Music Theory Placement Test

Attention, all entering, transferring, and returning students intending to major or minor in music:

Your music major/minor requires you to take Music Theory, which requires you to take an online theory placement test. Whether you plan to take Music Theory this fall or not, you should take the online test, between noon Aug. 23 (F) and noon Aug. 30 (F). How?

1. Send an email to Jolie Tingen, music technology analyst, at tingenjg@wfu.edu, who will send you a link to the test that will be active between Aug. 23 and 30.

2. If you have around 60 minutes, a quiet place, and only a blank sheet of paper and a pencil or pen in front of you, then select that link, after you . . .

3. . . . are sure your computer's volume is up and you can complete the entire test once you start it. (Students may take the test only once; therefore, be sure to complete your test your first time accessing the link.)

4. By submitting your test, you will indicate that you have not received or provided assistance from any source, human or otherwise, live or online. (WFU Honor Code)

You will be notified of your theory placement after Aug. 30.
